How do you keep up with the latest purse trends? That question has been one that women have tried to answer for many years. There are many different ways that women use for keeping up with the trends and styles. Some watch other women, some watch celebrities, some read magazine articles, while others shop the department stores. Ultimately, there is no quick answer for how to find the latest purse trends. There are new designers popping up every day. As soon as designers get their purses on the market, the counterfeiters are busy at work. The fake designer purses hit the streets almost as quickly as the designer purses themselves. Many women prefer the "copy" purses as the designer purses are too expensive for their budgets; while others prefer buying the designer purses because of their style and quality.

We have found that using a combination of all techniques gives one more of a hint of the trends. Watch the trends and then choose something that also fits within your personality and fashion. The most important thing is to make sure you are happy and feel great about your choice.

Finding the latest trend is only part of the problem. Once you find the latest styles, you are still faced with the issue of carrying all of your items. Sometimes the trend may be small purses, but you have a ton of things you need to carry. Or sometimes the trend is very large purses, but you are a small person that looks ridiculous carrying a huge bag. Note, it is extremely important to have a functional purse as well as a good looking purse. If you are going to a dinner party with friends, you may only need a small bag for lipstick and keys. If you are going out all day with friends to various places, it may be important to carry a larger bag. That is why most women need more than one purse. One purse generally does not fit for all occasions. It is rare that someone would carry a purse to work and then take that same purse to a formal affair. Whatever the occasion, the purse should fit your needs and personal taste. A purse is an accessory to your outfit. It should be an expression of you and your tastes.

So next time you're searching for the perfect purse, remember that it is an extension of you. Search for something you like. If you like it, most likely others will too.
