Did you notice the title for this article?

Of course, it's a headline. That's right and it uses a shop-worn classic format which still continues to amaze me with its power. Just 2 simple words...

"How To..." Stick with me on this, I know it sounds too easy.

The simple, lowly "How to" headline is still tops in my book for simplicity and effectiveness. You really cannot go wrong with it. The 'how to' headline is so versatile. You can follow it with several benefits, a question, an offer, almost anything - and it works great!

In fact, using the 'how to' formula is one of the best places to start when writing headlines because it forces you to think of what your product/service actually does for the person.

Here are a couple of winning examples to get your juices flowing:

How To Get FIVE Money-Making Web Sites In 29 Minutes Or Less...Without Spending A Fortune!

How to avoid the biggest mistake you can make in building or buying a home

How to cruise the world for $19 a day

How To Win Friends And Influence People

How to make your car invisible to radar and laser!

How to make your computer as easy to use as your telephone

How to fix cars

Check out the last winning headline on our list - "how to fix cars". I mean it really can't get any simpler than that, but it works...and it works big time!

Now here are a few "How To.." headlines you can plug-in and use right away when brainstorming:

===== "How to" Formulas =====

How to get _____

How to have _____

How to keep _____

How to start _____

How to begin _____

How to become _____

How to improve your _____

How to develop _____

How to get the most out of _____

How to avoid _____

How to end _____

How to get rid of _____

How to conquer _____

How to enjoy _____

Even just adding the word "how" in front of a headline gives it an additional appeal. Compare these 2 examples:

A strange accident saved me from baldness

How a strange accident saved me from baldness

Which one is more compelling? I think you'll agree #2 does the trick. And that one is a winning headline used over and over.

Okay, but maybe the tried and true "how to" is too boring for you. No problem! Spice it up by adding a little something before the 'how to'
