Everybody wants to be fashionable thanks to fast changing lifestyles. People want to dress up with trendy designer clothing and accessories that provide them eye-catching look and feel. After all, everybody seeks to be the center of attraction. The designer sunglasses have their own history. A gorgeous face always draws attention and an equally beautiful sunglass on the face enhances your personality. The use of sunglasses is more prominent in today's scenario. With the increasing harmful effects of Ultra Violet rays on your eyes, it has become mandatory to wear a sunglass when you venture outside.

All these above factors contribute greatly to the emerging business of sunglasses. Markets are simply flooded with varieties of sun spectacles to tap this growing segment of customers. Sunglasses are sold for each and every age groups and come in array of colors, shape and design. No matter whether you are a male or female, a business professional or sportsperson, an enthusiastic youth or a rest-seeking elder, you will find an excuse to sport a sunglass.

Among these sea of sunglasses, Oakley sunglasses have a class of their own. They have a long history. What was started in 1975 has now become a fashion statement. Oakleys have found their way into popular Hollywood movies. Many celebrities including film stars and sportspersons are their regular customers. So a question arises why Oakleys sunglasses are different from others.

These sunglasses have Plutonite and Iridium lens coatings, the do-it-yourself custom-made glasses and the mind-boggling Thump MP3 sunglasses. This lense material can filter out 100% of all UVA, UVB and UVC. The Oakley Plutonite lens also blocks 100% of all harmful blue light up to 400 nanometers. They are also designed to absorb all major impacts from both high speed and high mass objects. Water protection is another notable benefit. The special coating of Oakleys stops moisture and grease sticking to the lense. So they are ideal for sports activities.
