

There are some gifts that really stand out from the rest. When I received a copper tea pot at my bridal shower, I was caught by surprise. There was no item remotely like it on the entire bridal shower registry. However, I knew that the gift was better than anything I chose for myself.

My aunt is very particular and she settles for nothing less than the best. I immediately fell in love with the copper tea pot once I opened the package. There is good reason for my infatuation. The stovetop copper teakettle was imported from England. This magnificent kitchen accessory offers much.

The first thing I noticed about the copper tea pot was its beauty. This item is stunning and I have never seen anything quite like it. The English teakettle was handcrafted by talented artisans and it was built to perfection down to the smallest detail.

The copper teakettle holds two quarts and it is solid. There is no plating over a cheaper metal. This product is copper from inside out and you can tell by its magnificent shine and color. Beauty isn't the only feature that strikes me about this kitchen accessory.

The product heats water quickly and efficiently. The copper teapot has quick-boil coils that make the stovetop kettle work very fast. I was surprised to discover how fast this item worked and I really love that I can brew a cup of tea in record time. The copper tea pot is a welcomed addition to my kitchen.

In fact, I am so enamored with the English tea kettle that I am returning the stainless steel pots and pans that I requested on the bridal shower gift registry. These pots and pans will be replaced by copper ones. They may be more expensive but if they work nearly as well as the copper tea pot, I know that I will be more than pleased.

One thing to consider before purchasing a copper teapot is your stovetop. The item that my aunt bought for me is designed to work with a flame. This kettle is not designed for electric heating elements. Fortunately, I have a gas stove that is ideal for the product.

When you are making decisions on which items to choose on a bridal shower gift registry, you may want to consider purchasing something that you know in your heart the bride will love. I learned that some of the best gifts are ones that are chosen by the giver. I will never forget that my aunt bought the beautiful English copper tea pot for my bridal shower.