

5 Reasons Why Every Wine Drinker Should Visit California's Wine Country

Do you enjoy drinking wine? Do you consider yourself to be a wine enthusiast? If so, have you ever visited California wine country? If this is a trip that you have yet to make, you will want to consider adding it to your to do list. After all, California wine country is most well known for its large number of wineries and all of the great activities they hold.

As nice as it is to hear that you should visit California's wine country, you may be looking for more reasons why. After all, you may be content with sipping your favorite wine from the comfort of your own home. Even if this is your preferred method of drinking wine, there are still a number of reasons why you should make the trip to wine country. Just a few of those reasons, five to be exact, are touched on below.

1 - Your Options

Your options are unlimited, literally, when visiting California wine country. Did you know that California has over four hundred vineyards and wineries? They do and most are open to the public, often all year round. What does this mean for you? It means that you can have the vacation of your dreams, as you are able to hand pick just about every step you take.

2 - Winery Activities

The biggest draw to California wine country is the wineries. As previously stated, you have a large number of wineries and vineyards to choose from. Those aren't your only options either. California wine country has so many wine related activities for you to enjoy that you may not even know where to start.

Although you will find some variations, depending on the public winery in question, many offer similar activities. These activities may include wine tours, individual winery ground tours, wine tasting, educational classes with a focus on wine, annual wine festivals, and much more. With so much to do and see in wine country, it may be best to request a few free vacation guides.

3 - Easy to Plan

Whether you live in New York State or in California, planning a trip to California's wine country is relatively easy to do. Did you know that many vacation packages are available to you? These vacation packages may include a stay at a hotel, your airline reservations, as well as a car rental. Vacation packages are a nice way to make travel arrangements, as they are quick, easy, and convenient.

As for wine tours, they are also easy to plan. Tourists have the option of touring local wineries on their own, independently, or they can book reservations for a guided wine tour. Guided wine tours are often the simplest option, as every aspect of your tour is already planned out for you.

4 - Other Fun Activities for You to Enjoy

As if the above mentioned wine themed activities that you can in enjoy in California's wine country weren't enough, there is so much for you to do and see in the state of California. If you are interested in planning a vacation, you can make visiting and touring wine country just a portion of your vacation. However, may recommend spending at least two days touring the area and local wineries. Many other fun vacation activities in California include driving to the coast and enjoying a day at the beach, hiking, boating, shopping, and much more.

5 - An Experience You Will Never Forget

Perhaps, the greatest reason why you should consider planning a trip to California wine country is because it is something you will remember for years to come. Even those who aren't wine drinkers, report having a memorable experience. The beauty of California wine country is breathtaking. With that said, you are more likely to enjoy at trip to wine country if you are a wine drinker yourself. This is because, as previously stated, most of the activities you gain access to have a wine theme, such as winery tours and wine tasting.

PPPPP

Word Count 663